All presidents and secretaries of union cells in the Belgrade III district were called together on [REDACTED] and were informed that conferences would be held on 4 and 5 October 1950 in all union cells at which a special representative of the Communist Party Central Committee would speak on the questions of Yugoslavia's international status and the economic situation in the country.

25X1A

There may be some significance in the fact that topics such as Yugoslavia's international status and internal shortcomings are being discussed in basic Party units. This appears to be a departure from the usual procedure at Party meetings where topics of discussion are usually confined to organization, indoctrination norms, and recruitment of voluntary labor.
